Preamble to the Statutes of Kindernothilfe

He called a little child to him, and placed the child among them,
And he said: Truly I tell you, unless you change and become like little children, you will never enter the kingdom of heaven.
And whoever welcomes one such child in my name welcomes me.

Matthew 18, 3 and 5

Kindernothilfe derives its energy from God’s love and promise for His world.

In following Jesus on the path of righteousness, Kindernothilfe works to promote universal human rights and to protect children's rights by overcoming exploitation, poverty and violence.

In the spirit of Christian charity, Kindernothilfe places children in the centre of its work. In respecting their dignity, it endeavours to protect the right of every child to life and to develop into an adult and works to preserve natural resources that are necessary for the survival of future generations.

Kindernothilfe bases its work on international human rights agreements, and in particular on the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child. Its aim is to ensure that children’s rights are given priority worldwide.

Kindernothilfe attracts people who are touched by the fate of children and who are willing to assume responsibility in the long term.

In its programmes, projects, educational work and PR work, Kindernothilfe involves children and listens to them. We strengthen the children and their family and social environment and enable them to exercise their rights and to play an active role in shaping their future.

On this basis, Kindernothilfe sets out the following Statutes of the Association:

Article 1 - Name and Headquarters of the Association

The Association’s name is “Kindernothilfe e.V.”, and it has its registered office in Duisburg. It is listed in the legal register of associations of the Local Court of Duisburg.

Article 2 - Purpose of the Association

1. In order to fulfill the social and missionary commission of the followers of Jesus Christ, the Association aims to promote love of neighbor and a sense of responsibility for needy children and young people in our One World, especially in Asia, Africa, and Latin America, as well as to eliminate this state of need.

2. In Germany and Europe this is accomplished primarily by means of information and education, fundraising, cultivating and maintaining sponsorships, as well as through the Association’s involvement in development cooperation networks. It can also cooperate with other associations, foundations, and federations, provided they serve the same or similar purposes. In developing countries, Kindernothilfe fulfills its statutory tasks mainly by supporting projects and programs undertaken by local churches and Christian organizations.
3. Partner institutions, projects, and programs aim to assist the physical, mental, cultural, and social development of children and young people irrespective of gender, religion, race, or nationality. In this way, young people experience the gospel of the love of God in Jesus Christ in both word and deed. With the aim of sustainability, the partners – or their associated project partners in each country – contribute to the fight against poverty, the achievement of social justice, and the preservation of the environment.

4. This work, which involves local churches, partners, and projects, consists in directly supporting children and young people within their social context (education in schools, outside schools, and in vocational training supported primarily through sponsorships) as well as in financing development plans (for example, to increase family income, for community development, and for building up the necessary infrastructure).

5. In addition, Kindernothilfe can make funds available to its partners for the following purposes:
   • Ongoing, professional training and social service education for their personnel
   • Awareness-raising work in the partner’s country, as well as campaigns and lobbying work to promote the rights of children and young people
   • Ongoing training for project partners to ensure better utilization of local resources for their work with young people
   • Construction or improvement of buildings to accommodate work with children and young people
   • Coordination of and cooperation with the associated project partners, ensuring the proper use of allotted funds
   • Humanitarian aid as an integral part of development cooperation work.

6. The Association’s tasks will be carried out in a spirit of social service in keeping with the nature and outlook of the evangelical churches. In this sense, Kindernothilfe is open to working together not only with persons of an evangelical confession, but also with all those who are members of churches participating in the ACK (Working Group of Christian Churches in Germany). Members of the Administration Board, members of the Executive Board of Directors, and Department Heads must, as a rule, belong to an evangelical confession. Other employees must, as a rule, belong to a church which participates in the ACK.

Article 3 - Charitable Status

1. In carrying out the tasks described in Article 2, the Association directly and exclusively pursues charitable purposes in accordance with “tax privileged purposes” as defined in the German Tax Code. The Association is a not-for-profit institution and undertakes primarily charitable work.

2. Association funds may be used only for those purposes described in its statutes.

3. Association members have no claim on its assets or profits, and may not receive any other benefits from Association funds. When work is undertaken by members on behalf of the Association, they are entitled only to the reimbursement of expenses. This, however, does not affect the payment of reasonable remuneration for services rendered under an employment contract or a special, individual work order.

4. No person may receive special benefit through expenditures that are not in keeping with Association purposes, or through an unreasonably high level of remuneration.
5. The Association is a member of the Diaconic Social Services of the Evangelical Church in the Rhineland (recognized as the leading association of welfare service providers) and, at the same time, is affiliated with the Diaconic Social Services of the Evangelical Church of Germany.

Article 4 - Membership

1. Natural or juristic persons who affirm and support the work and purposes of the Association may become members of the Association. To be a member, natural persons must, as a rule, belong to a church that participates in the ACK, and juristic persons must also be affiliated with such a church to be a member. Every member shall pay the membership fee set by the Association's Annual General Assembly. A partial or full exemption from the payment of membership fees in individual, well-founded cases shall be decided upon by the Executive Board of Directors with the consent of the Administration Board.

2. Membership must be applied for in writing and shall be approved by the Executive Board of Directors with the consent of the Administration Board.

A termination of membership must be made in writing to the Executive Board of Directors. A member may be expelled on cogent grounds through a resolution by the Administration Board, which shall then be deemed final, particularly in cases where the member's conduct conflicts with the Association's reputation and purpose. The person concerned must be given the opportunity to state his / her case. Grounds for expulsion must be submitted to the person concerned in writing.

This Assembly meeting shall constitute a quorum regardless of the number of attending members. This fact must be expressly indicated in the invitation. Resolutions shall be passed – irrespective of stipulations in Article 9, paragraphs 1 & 2 – by a simple majority of the valid votes cast; abstentions shall not be counted. In the event that an equal number of votes are cast, the resolution shall not be passed.

In urgent cases, the Chairperson may call for a written vote on a resolution without holding a meeting of the Administration Board, provided that no member of the Board objects to this form within 10 days of the document being mailed. A three-quarters majority of votes cast shall be required for the written approval of a resolution. Resolutions approved in this way must be included in the agenda of the following Administration Board meeting.
